DENNIS RUSSELL DAVIES, Music Director of the Saint Paul Chamber Orchestra since 1972, is recognized as one of the leading young (29) conductors in this country. In addition to his duties with the Chamber Orchestra, he is music director of both the Cabrillo Festival in California and the New and Newer Music Series in New York City; his schedule entails numerous appearances abroad, including conducting the Saint Paul Chamber Orchestra on a State Department-sponsored tour of Eastern Europe next Fall. Called a “brilliant young conductor” by New York Magazine, he recently earned this kudo from Irving Kolodin in Saturday Review/World: “Davies, clearly, is a conductor who is here to stay and one whom any audience is obliged to stay to hear.”

DALE WARLAND and THE DALE WARLAND SINGERS have been working together as a permanent group since 1972. Their several appearances with both major orchestras in the Twin Cities, as well as their independent concerts, have met with critical acclaim. Composed of just under 50 professional and semi-professional singers, the ensemble has received praise especially for its a cappella work, examples of which will open the June 20 concert. Dale Warland is Professor of Music and Director of Choral Organizations at Macalester College in St. Paul, the O’Shaughnessy Tribute will be the third concert this season with the Chamber Orchestra for which he has prepared a chorus.
