Dear Dr. Sabin:

I wish to thank you very sincerely for your kind letter of April 4, and for sending me 15 of your reprints, which I have perused with great interest. It was very good of you to send me such a liberal supply and I assure you I shall make use of them for teaching purposes.

The four slides showing sections of the cord and medulla of a monkey are excellent preparations and I am making drawings so as to exhibit them in a microscopic demonstration for our students. I have seldom seen such well prepared sections.

Thank you very much for giving me details of your technique in preparing the extract from collected flies.

I trust you may find an opportunity to pay a visit here and, if you can arrange this, I shall be very happy to have you as my guest.

With kind regards,

Yours very sincerely,

J. Wyllie, M.D.,
Professor of Preventive
Medicine.
