Dear Dr. Sabin:

In reply to your letter of May 24 regarding facilities at our veterinary school for isolation of approximately twenty calves which might be used in a poliomyelitis experiment, would advise that there is a possibility of such facilities within two departments. In taking this matter up with Dean C. S. Bryan, he asked that I handle the correspondence on it, obtaining further information as to the duration of the experiment, the isolation facilities necessary -- single or group -- and the time, labor, and funds involved. Upon receipt of this information, it can better be determined which department may be in a position to cooperate with you on this project.

Sincerely yours,
