Dear Dr. Sabin,

I was happy to learn from your letter that the date of my arrival prior to the Conference in Chicago is convenient to you. As a result of some changes in my travel plans I can arrive in Cincinnati already on April 9 so that there will be no collision with your eventual departure for Chicago. I will be very pleased if you will be so kind as to meet me at the airport and will let you know the flight number and time of my arrival as soon as it will be fixed.

I accept with great pleasure to stay with you at your house and look forward very much to seeing you before long.

With best regards and wishes,

Sincerely yours,

Jan Svoboda
