Dear Dr. Sabin:

Thank you very much for your charming letter, which I found on my return from an extended trip abroad. To take first things first, I would like to extend my heartiest congratulations to you for your successful Vaccine No. I, which is now being produced. I hope that Nos. II and III will soon be forthcoming.

Secondly, I hope that if and when you should ever write a book for us, it will not be as a result of a broken leg or anything quite so drastic. We need you for much more important things.

Needless to say, I too hope that our paths may soon cross again, and when you come to New York next time, perhaps you could give us a ring so that we might have dinner together one evening. It would be a great pleasure, indeed. Doctors, just as others, need some relaxation.

With my warmest wishes for your continued success, I am

Sincerely,

David Abrahamsen, M. D.
