Report Form. A standard report form is enclosed for your convenience. Comments that we may send directly to the author should appear above the perforated line, confidential comments below. Suggestions for improvement of the manuscript will be helpful. Please return the first two sheets to us and retain the third for yourself.

Reader Interest. If, in your judgment, the accompanying paper is technically sound, please also state whether you think Science is the proper place for publication. Our audience consists of scientists drawn from all fields, so that a paper should have several of the following qualities to a moderate degree, or one quality to a fairly high degree: news value for the scientific community, interest to the specialist, interest as an interdisciplinary problem.

Time. We have been trying to reduce the publication time to two months or less. Accordingly, it will be helpful if you will return the paper along with your comments within two weeks.
