December 20, 1974

Dr. George Rieveschl
University of Cincinnati
Cincinnati, Ohio

Dear George,

Enclosed is a copy of the letter I gave to Caesar Caceres, M.D. for the presentation of our work at JAMI in Boston in March. Dr. Caceres indicated that there is a 4:30 p.m. slot the second day of the meeting; this time is reserved for the Arthur Bell lecture (I have never heard of it either). Apparently, our paper will be offered as the Arthur Bell lecture of this year. Dr. Caceres will let us know if there are any changes, and indicated he would send a letter to each of us inviting the presentation of our work.

Merry, Merry Christmas.

Sincerely,

Edward A. Patrick, M.D., Ph.D.
Professor of Electrical Engineering, Purdue University,
School of Medicine, Indiana University

EAP/gb
Enclosure
Special Invited Presentation on an Artificial Heart

Neil Armstrong
Henry Heimlich, M.D.
Edward A. Patrick, M.D., Ph.D.
George Rieveschl, Sc.D., Ph.D.

(Jewish Hospital, Cincinnati, Ohio;
University of Cincinnati; Purdue University)