Dear Sir:

I am a senior at James Logan High School in California. We have been assigned term papers in chemistry; mine has to be done on the polio vaccines. And, having read an article written on your recent accomplishments, I am referring to you for some information.

The fields of the vaccine that I have been able to find little or nothing on are:

- I. What are the contents by common name, formula, and percentages of each.
- II. What is the usual administration and dosage of the vaccine.
- III. What reaction may occur to the patient and what precautions could be taken in their prevention.
- IV. What temperature should it be kept at, and what other storage recommendations would you give.
- V. What other references could you give me aside from your reply.

Your information will be accepted most graciously and will be put to good use.

Yours very sincerely,

Jackie La Marr
