Dear Dr. Ten Broeck:

I have learned from mutual friends that on September 5 you will have reached your 80th birthday, and I wish to join all your other admirers in congratulating you on this event and wishing you many happy returns of the day.

I want to take this opportunity to say that the brief period that I spent at the Princeton institute, a little more than 20 years ago, has remained in my memory as one of the particularly gratifying interludes in my varied career. I shall never forget the many courtesies that you extended to me and the pleasant circumstances under which I was able to carry out my work.

With best wishes and cordial regards.

Sincerely,

Albert B. Sabin, M. D.
