Mr. J. J. McNamara,
Los Angeles County Jail,
Los Angeles, Cal.

My dear Joe:

As you know there is a balance in the Columbia National Bank covering the fund which has been used for organizing purposes and since the work of the organization must go on and all the funds available are necessary, I was instructed to arrange a transfer of this fund in such a way that the acting secretary could draw on this account. I have accordingly signed your name by myself as attorney to a check on this account, but the bank requests that as a protection to it, I should obtain a check with your own signature. I am therefore enclosing a check on the Columbia National Bank for this balance and would ask you to sign the same and return the check to me.

With kindest regards, I remain

Very truly yours,

Leo M. Rappaport
