Dear Dr. Sabin:

This morning I was talking to Dr. John Paul when he was in San Francisco and he suggested that I write this letter to you.

We are trying to reproduce experimental arthritis in mice and the organisms which we are trying to grow were received from Dr. Dienes of Harvard. So far our attempts to grow them have been unsuccessful and if you could send us a culture of such organisms we should be most grateful.

Sincerely yours,

Wm C. Kuzell
